

How to Engage State Government

Step 1: Pick a policy area you are passionate about. Ex. education, public health, taxes, voting rights etc.

Step 2: Go to <https://www.leg.state.mn.us/> Scroll to middle of screen and you will see:

Step 3: Click “contact my legislator” option. This will take you to the webpage where you can find out who are your legislators.

Step 4: Now that you know who are your legislators and what policy area you’d like to get involved in, find out which committees work in your particular policy area. Go to: <https://www.leg.state.mn.us/leg/committees>. This will take you to the webpage that will allow you to select committees in the House and the Senate. Pick which chamber you’d like to see the committee list for. Ultimately you will want to see both because you will want to contact members in both.

Advocacy tips to keep in mind:

- Chair, co-Chair and Ranking Minority Leads on each committee are the most powerful positions on any committee.
- Always include your ranking minority lead on any contact you have with a member of the committee that is on the opposite side of a bill you are trying to influence. Ex., if you are in support of Restore the Vote for felons and most committee members are against that, you will want to make sure to cc: the opposing party ranking minority lead; in this case, it may be the DFL ranking minority lead and visa-versa.
- If you are not able to attend a hearing to testify you can submit written testimony. Send your written testimony via email to the Committee Administrator and cc: the Chair and ranking minority lead on the committee.
- Make sure to cc: your own representatives so they know that this is an important issue to you.
- Make sure to communicate your concerns or suggestions to the Governor’s Policy Analyst, the Governor, Lt. Governor and Commissioners of the agency that would have jurisdiction over the matter. So, in the example above on Restore the Vote it may be the Commissioner of Public Safety.
- There is power in numbers. Get a letter signed by as many neighbors, friends, family, and colleagues as possible.
