

SHINE
A LIGHT ON

DARK MONEY

Demand
better
disclosure laws in Ohio

Ohio

The New York Times
Former Ohio Legislator Found Guilty of Racketeering in $60 Million Scheme
3/9/23

Akron Beacon Journal
SEC sues ex-FirstEnergy CEO Jones;
conspiracy charge brought against him,
ex-exec Dowling
9/13/24

HB6, Ohio's Biggest Corruption Scandal

In 2023, Former Speaker of the Ohio Larry Householder and former Chair of the Republican Party and political operative Matt Borges were found guilty of racketeering and bribery.

Householder and Borges received maximum sentences for their part in the successful $60 million scheme by FirstEnergy and other utility companies to buy seats and votes in the Ohio House to secure passage of House Bill 6 – a billion dollar bailout of failing nuclear and coal plants in Ohio and Indiana.

Others have been indicted in the massive and complex HB6 scandal, and the investigations continue. In 2024, FirstEnergy executives Chuck Jones and Mike Dowling were charged with bribery and engaging in corruption and as of January 2025 were still awaiting trial.

What You Can Do:

Tell your Ohio representatives to pass legislation to shine a light on dark money!

Larry Householder

Matt Borges

Why It Matters:

- ✓ As of January 2025, the total cost to rate payers for the coal plant subsidies is more than $400 million.
- ✓ HB 6 left Ohio with the least stringent clean-energy program in the U.S.
- ✓ Ohio's lax campaign finance laws and lack of transparency allow interested parties to spend unlimited money on lobbying and in elections while keeping the public in the dark.

Check out our website to stay up-to-date on the fight for transparency in government.

Follow and Support

SHINE
A LIGHT ON

DARK MONEY

Demand
better
disclosure
laws in Ohio

Ohio

House Bill 6 Scandal: By the Numbers

$60 million
scheme by FirstEnergy to bailout aging
nuclear plants

$1.5 billion
amount that FirstEnergy expected to receive as the result of HB 6

$4.3 million
amount FirstEnergy
admitted paying Sam Randazzo, the former chair of the Public Utilities Commission

$100 million
fine to FirstEnergy
issued by the SEC

$230 million
fine that FirstEnergy
paid as part of its deferred prosecution
agreement

$3.9 million
fine that FirstEnergy
agreed to pay for lying about its lobbying
activities

15 years since the *Citizens
United* decision opened the floodgates to corporate money
in elections

GUILTY

1 dark
money group (Generation
Now) that pleaded guilty

2 coal plants that are still being subsidized due to HB 6, one in Ohio and one in Indiana

$445,679 what Ohioans pay per day to subsidize coal plants

0 bills
passed to shine a light on dark money
or prevent this from happening again

2 FirstEnergy
executives
awaiting trial

20 years
sentence Larry Householder is serving in federal prison

Follow and Support

commoncauseohio

CommonCauseOhio

commoncause.org/ohio

