Chairman Brad Karp
Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison LLP
1285 Avenue of the Americas
New York, NY 10019

Dear Mr. Karp,

The undersigned, alumni of Paul, Weiss, write to protest the firm's recent decision to surrender to the Trump administration in the face of threats to its operations.

Paul, Weiss has long been a stalwart of professionalism and integrity, and a source of pride for its attorneys and alumni. Many of its prominent partners, including Simon Rifkind, Lloyd Garrison, Arthur Liman, and Jay Topkis, have been active in good government and the causes of democracy and civil and human rights. During the first Trump administration, Paul, Weiss lawyers, including many of us, fought to protect civil and human rights with the firm's support. That is why it came as a shock to find the firm at the very forefront of capitulation to the Trump administration's bullying tactics. We expected the firm to be a leader in standing up for the legal profession, the adversary system, and the right to counsel. Instead of a ringing defense of the values of democracy, we witnessed a craven surrender to, and thus complicity in, what is perhaps the gravest threat to the independence of the legal profession since at least the days of Senator Joseph McCarthy. Lloyd Garrison represented J. Robert Oppenheimer at his security hearings during the McCarthy era; Arthur Liman was Chief Counsel to the Senate Select Committee on Iran/Contra during the Reagan administration; Jay Topkis stood up to state and local governments attempting to impose the death penalty. These former partners, along with many others, are surely turning over in their graves.

This is not a matter of partisan politics. At a time when judges are threatened with violence and impeachment for applying the rule of law, the very independence of lawyers and the legal profession is at stake. We are therefore profoundly saddened, and deeply outraged, that the firm in which we heretofore took pride has cowardly allowed itself to become instead a poster child for the administration's efforts to silence dissent and impose a loyalty test on attorneys.

In your post-surrender message to the firm, you expressed the view that the firm could now "put the matter behind us." That statement is not just bad lawyering compounding bad negotiating, it is false. It is already clear that the President is claiming that the firm gave away more than it admits. Even worse, from the standpoint of posterity, it is a permanent stain on the face of a great firm that sought to gain a profit by forfeiting its soul.

We accordingly ask the firm to issue an unambiguous statement that it adheres to the principles it has long regarded as essential to its mission, and strongly rejects the administration's attacks on the courts and the rule of law.

Signed,
